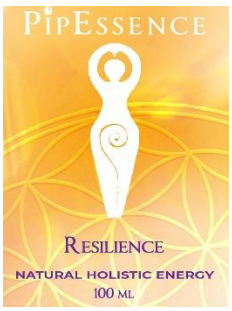
Resilience



This resource filled essence holds so much support for the health and wellbeing of our body, that this in turn creates a certain knowing that the high vibrations within the water droplets are helping you physically, to shine and thrive.

This system support gifted from Mother Nature herself, shares the vibration made manifest through the water droplets and into our energy field/ aura/ bio- sphere. Passing on the energetic imprints from the liquid loving Light, from both Father Sky and Mother Earth.

These droplets act like an energy supplement that we take externally to support the inner landscape of our physical body. The refinement from each of these layers of vibration has been chosen specifically to support the whole of you and if shared, your loved ones and those environments that you hold dear too.

To experience the action and boosting effect of this energy enables you to be confident that your systems are at their optimum (or you may be seeking a quick recovery), so that in turn you are confident to adapt with what is presented.

This combined energy shares the capacity to assist us to function and empower ourselves to face with certainty any future changes and challenges that arrive. These droplets are like building blocks of health so that we can continue to support your web of energy with ingredients and qualities from nature.

The layers of frequency include: 3 sources of water memory from the sacred Mother Spring in Avalon to the Ancient and wild flows of Dartmoor (the third is the flower infusion). Flower infusions from calendula and echinacea, were selected for their array of action properties including stringent, antibacterial, anti-fungal, immune stimulant, anti-allergic and anti- inflammatory, So many helpful qualities!

The crystal vibrations included the well-known purifying properties of bloodstone, the stabilising effects from the fortifying Carnelian sphere. Energy Field clearer and immunity boosting properties from the Fluorite were shared amplified by the very nurturing and pure energies from the Lemurian ‘Isis’ Blade of Light. Rainbow Ray was creating the outer grid of energy, whilst lastly a star tetrahedron platonic solid was placed on the heart of the Ascended Master Serapis Bey who shared his white ray of purity and expansion.

The Solfeggio sound frequency of 963 hertz was intuitively played to the waters in a numerical sequence and symbols with its connection to Oneness and quality that awakens any system to its original state.

From the sky's perspective, the water memory was left outside in the star garden for 33 hours on a master builder day of 22nd November. Within this time, the sun had just moved into Sagittarius (fire element). The brilliant white Moon was near full, and throughout this these hours, the atmosphere was unusually still, clear and peaceful that the light from the stars, planets, sun and moon would be pristine in energy.

The scented notes of calendula, and yarrow were added for the healing, active and purifying properties. Whilst the finishing note is from a drop of Angelsword, that passes on the Violet Ray to repair and maintain the whole energy field.
